

Hervé Tilly is professor in Hematology, at the University of Rouen, France and has headed the department of Hematology at Centre Henri Becquerel in Rouen. He has focused his activity in clinical hematology, establishing a stem cell transplant activity and creating a regional hematology network. He has served as scientific director of the Centre Henri Becquerel and more recently as general manager.

Hervé Tilly has devoted his research to lymphomas, founding a research group affiliated with INSERM-France. He was a co-founder the Groupe d'Etude des Lymphomes de l'Adulte (GELA) and more recently of the Lymphoma Study Association (LYSA). As such, he participated in the conception, implementation and analysis of many clinical trials. He has coauthored numerous publications in the field of lymphomas. Hervé Tilly is currently the president of the European Lymphoma Institute (ELI).

