

Short biography Kim Linton

Dr Kim Linton is a clinical senior lecturer at the Manchester Cancer Research Centre, with a specialist interest in developing novel therapies for lymphoma, advanced cellular therapies, risk adapted management strategies, safety and response biomarkers and late effects of lymphoma treatment. She chairs the NCRI Low grade Lymphoma Subgroup and is scientific secretary for the EHA Lymphoma Scientific Working Group. She provides expert consultancy for the National Institute for Health and Care Excellence in the UK, the Lymphoma Action charity and the pharmaceutical industry.

